

Our Town

By Peggy Blanchard

Like many Campbellites, Mrs. A. C. Kessling prizes her beautiful Christmas cards, but is willing to part with her collection for a good cause. She mislaid her Press in which we mentioned that Mrs. Prout is gathering discarded cards for veterans' and children's hospital, but after a quick phone call, sent her donation on its way.

Thanks to other contributors, too. The cards are sorted by color and subject matter and pasted into scrapbooks to help while away many a weary hour in the big hospitals.

Is there a house for rent in Campbell?

That's the No. 1 question in a long and varied list the Chamber of Commerce receives from all parts of the country. Other folks want to know about hotel accommodations, how near we are to the "big trees"—the Redwoods, not the town, how near we are to the ocean—how large five-room houses are built here. And nearly everyone asks for a map, so those maps the American Dairy had printed are making Campbell famous from Massachusetts westward. Forrest Reese, Chamber secretary, says all the schools in Michigan must be studying California this year—he feels as though he has written each child in that state personally.

Have you heard the new definition of a child?—A set of quizz questions on legs?

It's a big banquet for the Forty and Eight Monday when Forrest Reese steps into the presiding role in that County organization. Already secretary of the C of C and local Rotary, active in American Legion Post 596, he'll soon need a secretary to the secretary!

B. A. Evans drove 200 miles Friday night to go deer hunting. Bright and early Saturday dawn he drew a bead on a buck and was back home Saturday evening with his trophy!

Wonder who's blushing? Not that we never make mistakes, but the most fascinating advertisement of the week appeared in another newspaper: An exclusive hat shop advertised a cloche trimmed with "coke" feathers—the copywriter must have those paws that refreshes!

View.

All three meetings are open to the public.

Describes Trip to Rio Convention for Local Men's Club

Campbell Rotary Club was treated to one of the most interesting talks yet enjoyed at its noon luncheon meetings last Monday when Stanley R. James, of San Jose, was introduced as guest speaker.

Mr. James, a member of the San Jose Rotary club, spoke informally on his experiences as a delegate to the world convention of Rotary held in Rio de Janeiro last spring. Mr. James, his wife and other Rotarians and wives from San Jose flew to Rio on Pan American World Airways. They enjoyed many stop-overs at interesting places enroute, with the first stop being made in Mexico City. Their pilot had radio permission to fly the party around the high cone of one of Mexico's large volcanoes for a close-up view of the phenomenon.

Continuing from Mexico the party visited the Inca Indian ruins in Central America and thence went over the Andes Mountains to nearly all the South American countries with brief stops being made in the more interesting spots.

In Bogota the party was confined to their hotel on May Day, traditional communist holiday. American authorities were alarmed for the safety of travelers from the states since the rabid and radical element were known to plan violent demonstrations. Mr. James stated that many people

Added to the town's roster of business establishments this week is the name of Ralph A. Anderson. Mr. Anderson announces the opening of new mens wear shop in the Virginia City Court at 221 East Campbell avenue.

The new shop will stock a full and complete line of men's haberdashery including a line of sport clothes and dress apparel.

Mr. Anderson comes from Sunnyside where he also owns a men's store. He is being assisted in the opening of the Campbell store by his wife and two boys, Kenny, 12, and Leonard, 8. Opening is set for Saturday, August 14. The store will remain open Thursday evenings until nine after this week.

In deciding on a location for a new store Mr. Anderson scoured the valley for the most likely spot and says that he believes the Campbell location to be the most promising of all the places he investigated. He is amazed by the rapid growth of the community and foresees steady commercial growth in keeping with the expanding population.

Bonnie, The Collie, Is Gone. Owner Asks Whereabouts

Bonnie, dear Bonnie come home to us now,

Your sins are forgiven, there's meat in your chow.

Oh why did you stray in your own doggy way

And leave us alone through the night and the day?

I'm in a bad spot, with your mistress away . . .

You'd better get home or our bedrooms we'll change, I'll be in your house . . . while you run the range.

The above was inspired by the worried look on Ray Mathis' face as he came in the Press office just at press time to run a classified ad. The forms were locked up and the paper ready for the press, so we take this means to help him locate his Collie dog, Bonnie. Bonnie would pick the most inauspicious Volunteers of the San Tomas Fire Department responded to three calls this week—their first week since they acquired a bright new, red, high-efficiency fire truck.

Two dwellings and several small out-buildings were saved by their prompt action last Thursday when they were called to extinguish a fire in the sulphur house at the Mancuso ranch, San Tomas road.

The volunteers assembled and were on their way to the fire less than three minutes after the alarm was sounded by Otis Stockbridge who discovered the blaze on his way home from work in San Jose late Wednesday night.

Moreland School Paper Gains Fame In Magazine Article and Photos

National attention among educators will soon be focused on Moreland School's own newspaper. The Instructor, a magazine for teachers, has accepted an article written by Mrs. Vivian Snow about the Monthly newspaper, telling of how pupils in her Eighth Grade journalism class gather, write and edit the news.

Contributions from each grade in the elementary school give the publication a well-rounded news content. And the youngsters solicit and collect for advertising to support their own paper.

Photographs accompany the article, which will be published late this fall.

Mrs. Snow teaches Second Grade and directs the Eighth Grade Journalism class at Moreland. The Moreland Monthly is published at The Campbell Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Public Have Their Say in Writing County Charter

Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public will have their say in the writing of the new County Charter at a series of meetings begun Wednesday evening.

Freeholders, elected in June to draft the charter, have spent the past two months at innumerable meetings with authorities.

"The 15 Freeholders elected June 1 have been very busy the past two months holding innumerable meetings and conferences with dozens of governmental authorities, both of this county and elsewhere," Fred A. Wickett, chairman, reported. "With the insights thus gained, we will spend the coming month drafting the best possible charter, and need the viewpoints of each citizen to that end."

The Board of Freeholders, now in its last month of work on the County Charter, has announced a series of public meetings to obtain the views and suggestions of interested citizens, before it draws up the final draft of the Charter and files it on September 7.

Chairman Fred A. Wickett of Palo Alto has arranged with the Board of Supervisors for use of the Board's chambers in the Court House for these hearings, which will be held usually on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock during the month of August.

Discussion at each meeting will be limited to one general area of county government, Mr. Wickett said. Meetings and topics scheduled so far are as follows:

Wednesday, August 11—Shall the Charter provide for a county executive, appointed by the Board of Supervisors? Shall the supervisors be elected by districts, as at present?

Monday, August 16—Shall the recommendations of the Freeholders' Finance Committee be included in the Charter?

Meetings to follow will cover suggested Charter provisions in the following fields: Health, welfare and recreation; public works; law enforcement, and civil service. Dates of succeeding meetings will be publicized in the newspapers of the county.

The Freeholders will appreciate attendance and suggestions at these meetings of yourself and your friends.

HOT WEATHER THIRST QUENCHER

When the weather's hot, tall cooling beverages hold the spotlight and the appearance of a frosty pitcher, accompanied by crisp cookies, is a refreshing sight. Most satisfying thirst-quenchers are drinks which are not too sweet and the attractive cooler pictured above is ideal for bridge parties or when friends drop in to visit. The delicate, light flavor of the sauterne wine combines invitingly with either lemon or lime juice and the drinks may be prepared individually in tall glasses or mixed in a water pitcher.

Summer Peach Treat

Peach-upside down cake is a perennial family favorite but it reaches new heights of flavor and popularity when fresh peaches form the golden fruit topping. So for a perfect summer treat let's serve fresh peach shortcake with a snowy crown of fluffy whipped cream.

The basis for the upside-down cake must equal the perfection of the sun-ripened peaches, so select the cake ingredients with care. A good tested recipe, the finest of ingredients and following instructions exactly will give you the velvety-textured cake you desire and your friends envy.

PEACH UPSIDE-DOWN-CAKE

Yield: 6 to 8 servings

1/2 cup Swift's
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg

1/2 cup milk (about)
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 to 3 cups sliced peaches
Whipped cream

Cut Swift's into flour which has been sifted with baking powder, salt and sugar, until the mixture is the consistency of cornmeal. Make a well in mixture. Put egg into measuring cup. Add enough milk to measure three-fourths cup. Stir together. Add flour mixture to form a soft dough. Turn onto lightly floured board. Knead six times. Roll out to form an 8-inch square. Cut several gashes in dough.

In a heavy skillet, combine butter, sugar, and almond flavoring. Cook until sugar is melted, stirring constantly. Pour into 8-inch square baking pan. Lay peach slices over sirup in pan. Top with biscuit layer. Bake in a hot oven (450° F.) 25 minutes or until biscuit topping is well baked. Turn upside-down out of pan onto serving platter. Serve warm or cold with whipped cream.

Homemade Sandwich Buns

Just plain good food is the keynote of a quick menu of well-done hamburgers on enriched sandwich buns, served with plenty of garden fresh salad.

A serve-yourself meal which features hamburgers and relishes is certain to draw many comments of "what fun this is!" Sandwich buns from the bakeshop or made at home give the 'burgers that wonderful special flavor. When made at home, the buns are easily shaped from a plain yeast dough by rolling into small balls and flattening to the desired shape.

With the picnic season in full swing, it is a good idea to bake enough buns at one time to take care of sandwich needs for several days. Careful storage preserves their fresh quality. Incidentally, the buns taste wonderful when toasted over an open fire.

On other occasions you may wish to let the nearby friendly baker save you time and energy. The enriched sandwich buns he supplies also provide the important B-vitamins and iron of these home-made buns.

Sandwich Buns

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry
1/2 cup lukewarm water
1 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar

2 teaspoons salt
1/4 cup shortening
2 eggs
4 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour (about)

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add eggs. Beat until blended. Add softened yeast. Mix well. Add remaining flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in lightly greased bowl. Grease surface. Cover. Let rise until doubled (about one and one-half hours). Punch down. Shape into number of buns desired by rolling into small balls and flattening to form sandwich buns. Place on greased baking sheets. Let rise until doubled (about one hour.) Form remaining dough into smooth ball. Grease surface lightly. Cover and put into refrigerator. When wanted, remove dough from refrigerator and punch down. Mold at once, or if preferred, let dough stand in warm room for an hour before molding. Let rise until doubled. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 18 minutes. Yield: two dozen four and one-half inch buns.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat THRESHING TIME

VOLUNTARY COOPERATIVE EFFORT HERE IN AMERICA HAS BEEN AN IMPORTANT FACTOR IN THE GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT OF OUR NATION SINCE ITS EARLIEST DAYS... ONE EXAMPLE, WARMLY FAMILIAR TO GENERATIONS OF OUR PEOPLE, IS THE THRESHING CREW AT WORK—FARMERS JOINING TOGETHER TO PROVIDE MAN-POWER AND MACHINERY TO ACCOMPLISH IN A SHORT TIME A TASK IMPOSSIBLE FOR ONE FAMILY WORKING ALONE.

ONE OF THE GREATEST EXAMPLES OF VOLUNTARY COOPERATION IN AMERICA IS THE PROVISION WE MAKE, THROUGH LIFE INSURANCE, FOR FAMILY PROTECTION... WITH MILLIONS OF AMERICANS POOLING THEIR FUNDS AND SHARING THEIR RISKS, ALL ACHIEVE AN ECONOMIC SECURITY THAT FEW OF US COULD ACQUIRE ALONE.

Adventist Camp Ready for Annual Church Meeting

Members of Campbell Seventh-Day Adventist church look forward to a camp meeting to be held from August 13-22 on their new grounds near Santa Cruz. Some of the denomination's best speakers from the world headquarters at Washington, D. C., and overseas posts have been scheduled for the meetings.

Construction crews rushed work on the 87-acre camp site in order to be prepared for the large gathering of people for this annual meeting. The large wooden pavilion, housing the 4,500-capacity auditorium and offices, will be in use, as well as a new cafeteria and store building. Parking space is being provided for 800 cars.

Pastor Bufano of the Campbell church said, "From all reports this will be a record-breaking meeting for our conference. More than 300 family tents have already been ordered." The Central California conference includes the territory from San Francisco to Santa Maria and over to the Sierra Nevada mountains.

The camp is two miles north of Soquel on the Soquel Road and about five miles from Santa Cruz.

THOUGHTFUL SERVICE IN TIME OF NEED

Who pays for new telephones?

1. This sight represents a lot of money. For the land, buildings, equipment, and wires needed to serve each new telephone cost us far more than prewar... just as the things you buy cost more. To meet the West's growing telephone needs we're putting more than half a million dollars to work every day.

2. This complex equipment can't be paid for out of telephone bills... it takes a lot of new money furnished by investors. But the telephone bill does play an important part. It covers wages and taxes and other costs of services and—when rates are fair and adequate—leaves a few cents profit to pay investors for the use of their money.

3. Can a housewife pay for new telephone services? Many do. For many thousands own telephone stocks and bonds. Money for a vast amount of new facilities comes from such investors. To keep the system growing and improving, we must keep on attracting new money to pay for it. We can do it only if we sell our services at fair and adequate prices.

4. When you make a local call, your cost averages less than a nickel. For those few pennies you hire a mighty servant... a bigger servant than ever before. There will soon be twice as many telephones on the Coast as ten years ago. More are being added. And each new one makes your telephone just that much more valuable.

An interesting sidelight on activities of the Rotary International Club comes to light this week with receipt of a news item hidden amongst our mail.

The story comes from an organization calling themselves the Regional Service Committee of the City and County of San Francisco and deals with a topic of historical interest to all Californians.

In 1932 the Rotary International bought the plot of land on the island of Mallorca that was the birthplace of Father Junipero Serra who founded the 21 missions in the state of California. Rotary gave the plot of land to the city of San Francisco, free of all taxes, leases or other expense. Visitors are charged a small fee for sight-seeing privileges.

"Boss wrangler" of all P. G. and E.'s electrical horsepower is the System Dispatcher who sits in front of this giant control board in Oakland. His word, spoken into a telephone, starts giant generators whirling at a hydro plant in the High Sierra or spins a turbine in a steam generating plant miles away. And when less power is needed his word stops the flow. For the Dispatcher keeps our vast system efficiently balanced to meet your demands every instant... to make P. G. and E.'s 3,000,000 horsepower do its work well for California.

When trouble strikes, the dispatcher's job gets hectic. He must call on other plants to increase their power output and make the service interruption, if any, as brief as possible.

Your breakfast toast is part of the dispatcher's responsibility. For he must make sure that our tremendous power output is working for you... as much as you need... when you need it.

FOR THE RECORD
The dispatcher's job will be nearly 2,000,000 horsepower bigger... as P. G. and E. rushes more post-war power to California at a cost of more than $400,000,000. More than 1/2 of this new power will be serving you in less than a year.

Voters Must Be Sharp To Protect Rights In November Election, Writer Says

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

California's November General Election ballot this year will be a long and complicated one and it will call for the exercise of voter intelligence of the highest type.

Not only will the people express their choice for the next president of the United States and elect members to congress, but they will be confronted by a long list of constitutional amendments submitted directly by the legislature or through the process of the initiative.

It is still too early for a detailed discussion of the many controversial issues, among the most important of which are a $100,000,000 public housing proposal, a measure to reapportion the State senate, two fish and game control schemes, an initiative repealing the featherbedding provisions of the 1911 railroad Excess Crew Law, and the so-called "Bill of Rights" amendment.

At a later date the writer hopes to be able to provide a detailed analysis of the various propositions. Today, however, it may not be amiss to discuss the "Bill of Rights" initiative which, pretending to be all things to all men, would foist upon the public a fantastic conglomeration of trick laws reminiscent of, but even more dangerous than, the notorious Ham and Eggs scheme of a decade ago.

This bill was recently ruled off the fall ballot by action of the State Supreme Court.

Even a casual examination of the catch-all contents of the "Bill of Rights" proposal shows its insidious nature.

Among other things, this omnibus bill would:

Legalize bookmaking, lotteries, slot machines, craps, greyhound racing, and other forms of gambling.

Pay every person 60 years of age a pension of $100 a month until July of 1952 and $130 a month thereafter.

Pay $100 a month to persons without jobs.

Pay $30 a week sick or disability benefits.

Provide burial benefits.

Abolish all state and local taxes and substitute a two percent gross receipts tax.

Permit the coloring of oleomargarine before sale.

License certain healing practitioners.

Reapportion the State Senate so that control of that body would be vested in a few large counties.

Outlaw cross-filing at primary elections.

Regulate civic centers, public lands, water pollution, deep-sea fishing, surface mining, etc.

And finally, of course, the "Bill of Rights" would give its principal advocate, Willis Allen, and four other specifically named "pension commissioners" the job of administering it at a salary of $15,000 a year each. Allen will be remembered as one of the authors of the Ham and Eggs bill, which the voters soundly beat.

The technique of including several widely different subjects within one proposition is exploited to the fullest by the "Bill of Rights" to gain the support of the minority groups. Some of these groups have been rebuffed time and again by the voters when they made independent bids at the polls for their pet projects. The "Bill of Rights" promoters seem to be operating under a revised version of an old political admonition, "if you can't beat 'em, join 'em." The revision, as a recent newspaper editorial pointed out, runs something to this effect: "If you can't win separately, gang up."

When the "Bill of Rights" measure qualified for the November ballot, the San Francisco Chronicle wrote: "There is something in it for almost everybody—except the ordinary taxpayer. For him, the bill would prescribe a two percent gross receipts levy. If that failed to balance the books, the levy would presumably be upped to three percent as they originally planned, or five, or ten, or whatever might be needed. . . it is made to look on its face like a chance to get something for nothing. Actually it offers the minority of the population the chance to live handsomely off the toil and sweat of the majority, and by placing a premium on idleness it contains the built-in assurance that the idle minority would grow and grow. It contains, in other words, the seed of absolute chaos for the State."

Measures such as the "Bill of Rights" are an affront to the intelligence of the electorate and no doubt the electorate will deal with it in the manner it deserves.

Such catch-all propositions would be banned in the future under a constitutional amendment

The Campbell Press, Campbell, Calif., Thursday, August 12, 1948—5

Coffemaker Most Used Utensil

The coffemaker is the kitchen utensil most often used by the American housewife it was found in three states, California, Nebraska and Rhode Island. The survey for California was directed by Dr. Jean Warren, assistant professor of Home Economics at the University of California College of Agriculture.

The results which were basically the same in the Western, Eastern and Midwestern states ought to be important not only to manufac-submitted by the assembly—Number 10 on the November ballot—which limits future initiative measures to one subject. It is too late to halt the "Bill of Rights" promoters now, but by defeating their bill and passing the assembly's amendment, California will not be plagued in the future by such crack-pot schemes.

turers and retailers, but also to the homemakers themselves.

Next to the coffemaker housewives make most frequent use of the frying pan, 10 to 12 inches in diameter. A smaller, 8-inch frying pan came in tenth. On the other hand, the one quart saucepan made third place, while bigger saucepans lagged behind, in sixth and eighth position. The pancake turner was fourth and the bread knife fifth. The lowly dishpan ranked seventh, the medium sized egg beater ninth.

Far back among the also-rans were the baking utensils, which may be an indication that farm homemakers do less baking than formerly. Dr. Warren and her group also made the interesting discovery that family size had no influence on the kind, number and size of utensils.

U. C. Scientist Solves Mystery

Why thousands of bristly globular objects were found on the shores of Little Borax Lake in Lake County appeared to be an unsolvable mystery until samples were taken to Professor Edward O. Essig of the University of California College of Agriculture at Berkeley.

The strange looking gray spheres, varying in size from a baseball to a small watermelon, could not be explained by natives of the area who claimed that no one had ever seen them before, not even the Indians or the earliest white inhabitants.

A resident of Nice, Lake County carried some of the mysterious objects to the University where a microscopic examination was made. It was found that they were composed of the hair-like fibres of ditch grass, so tightly and intricately enmeshed that they formed an almost indestructible whole. A close examination of the lake shore revealed a great thick mass of small particles of ditch grass imbedded in decaying material. Dr. Essig believes that the spheres were formed by wave action that rolled loose plant particles into tight round form. A violent wind-storm may have swept them on to the shore where they had puzzled the inhabitants of the area.

July Employment Gains Over June; Below '47 Level

San Francisco Bay Area plants employed 119,700 production workers in July compared with 113,400 in June, Paul Scharrenberg, director of industrial relations, announced recently. The current level, however, is more than 3,000 below July of last year. The sharp June-July rise reflects primarily seasonal expansion in Bay Area canneries.

Employment in each of the non-durable goods industries decreased slightly between June and July except in food products and chemicals. However, the sharp seasonal upswing in canning more than offset the decreases. The net result was a rise to 61,800 production workers in nondurable goods industries as a whole in July from 58,500 in June. In July 1947, 64,600 production workers were employed in Bay Area nondurable goods plants.

In contrast to the trend in non-durable goods industries, most durable goods groups reported increases between June and July. Exceptions were furniture and machinery. In durable goods industries as a whole, factory employment increased by 3,000 to 57,900 in July. This compares with 58,500 in the corresponding month of 1947.

Livestock Leads County Fair Entries

Entries in all divisions of the Santa Clara County Fair, September 13 to 19, inclusive, are being received now at the Fair Grounds with the Livestock Division setting a pace for the other departments.

Jere Sheldon, chairman of the Livestock Division, announces that many of the divisions are filling up unusually early this year. Elmer Hansen, national livestock authority from San Luis Obispo, will judge the dairy show. He will also judge at the Minnesota State Fair the week before he officiates at the Santa Clara County Fair. There he will judge Guernsey and Jersey dairy cattle.

In the women's division of the fair, committees are being named by Mrs. Ben H. Campbell, general chairman, and entries for international booths and feature booths are being assigned their allotted space in the Women's Tent. Mrs. Campbell has expressed the hope that the women of the county are making their plans early for the types of entries they intend to make.

In the enlarged Floriculture Division nursery and commercial entries are now being made, and Mrs. A. Adamson, chairman of the Amateur Flowers Division, urges all members of her committee and all flower raising clubs to put over the importance of individual entries by home gardeners. Individuals entering home-grown cut flowers and plants will be allowed to enter the Fair Grounds free of charge before 9 a.m. by the Monterey Road entrance on the day they bring their specimens to be judged.

Another department open to entries is the Art Show. Roger Condon, chairman of the art department, issues a call to all artists, painters, and photographers to enter exhibits in this year's art show. Exhibits should be brought to the Fair Grounds Friday, September 10, and entry blanks may be submitted any time now, according to Condon.

The maximum size for all entries is 48 inches square. There are divisions for oil paintings, water colors, tempera, pastels and drawings, prints, ceramics, sculpture, hand-wrought jewelry, and other forms of artistic expression.

In the photo displays there will be a special division for Santa Clara county scenes according to Frank M. Beckett and Nestor Barrett, photography co-chairmen. All photography prints must be mounted on 16 by 20-inch mounts.

Anyone desiring more information on the premiums being offered exhibitors this year or entry blanks should drop a card to the Santa Clara County Fair Grounds, Route 4, Box 414-A, San Jose, and premium books and entry blanks will be mailed.

Arriving at Rio the party was awed by the magnificence of the harbor and approach to the city. Mr. James, who has travelled extensively, says the harbor and city have just claim to the title of "world's most beautiful."

At the next meeting, Monday, August 16, a mock trial is to be held to determine responsibility for the loss or theft (temporarily) of Bill Maderis' rotary badge. Charges and counter-charges have been flying around to the extent that Bill has engaged the services of a pseudo attorney to straighten out the matter once and for all.

tee studying county finance, has made a final report of recommended charter provisions for the Board of Freeholders to pass upon. The committee suggests that an auditor-controller, appointed by the County Executive, administer a coordinated system of accounting of the $25,000,000 business done by the various county departments.

After a month of hearings with county officials and other authorities, the committee reported that "testimony showed that efforts, from time to time, to obtain proper audits of county records had been most difficult if not impossible in certain cases."

Other Charter provisions the committee proposes are as follows:

1. The county executive shall be the county's chief budget officer to administer more orderly preparation of the county's budget.

2. All purchasing for the county shall be combined under a separate department; that the head of this department shall be known as the purchasing officer.

3. All heads of finance departments shall be appointive and removable by the County Executive.

4. All fees collected by county officers or employees shall belong to the county.

5. The Supervisors shall be given power to consolidate county finance offices upon recommendation of the County Executive.

took into account the five outs whether the official score-keeper allowed the Rotary aggregation in the final inning.

By way of passing we might mention that the I.O.O.F., otherwise known as the Odd Fellows were the lads who took the measure of the Centenarians. Cel Ger-evas, after yeoman work on the mound . . . yielding only 44 hits and 22 runs in 4 innings, finally, due to darkness, gave way to the club's other stellar mound performer, Forrest Reese. In two innings Forrest, the club's youngest allowed the visitors only 10 runs on 15 hits.

mento, who is the dean of all pharmacists and who worked in the old Miners Drug Store at Third and K Streets in Sacramento during the '60s, will assist J. R. Dieffenbacher, of the state division of food and drugs, in this year's exhibit.

Kidder worked for Dr. McDonald who marketed "Dr. McDonald's Vinegar Bitters, good for 40 or more known diseases," and started his career by washing bottles.

The miners of those early days showed a partiality for the "bit-ters" and, according to Kidder, kept Doc McDonald busy making his panacea. The exhibit, designed by Dieffenbacher, will show medicines gone forever from store shelves.

The setting for the display will be relics from old time drug stores. Cabinets, counters and shelves have been obtained from an ancient drug emporium in Coulterville which date back to 1860.
